Whales are getting out of the wave?

Except that's an Orca. Which are like... Sharks basically. Sharks mistaken as whales.

Maybe the sharks are finally getting pushed out of the wave?

I dunno. That's all the brain power I got for this.

Orcas are dolphins, not whales or sharks.

Fish out of water... is OP referring to himself within Reddit?? Orca, killer whale, jumping with a smile on his face. OP could be the killer whale, or whale killer (Ken G being the whale), before finally disappearing. I know this is GME related....but how? Help me figure this out Apes, maybe it's a piece of the puzzle.

You're right. People were thinking ratio is Bernie madoff... either way ratio killed the whale Ken and now ratio went poof just like Bernie went poof?

Blackfish? TJ Fuller?

Edit: Did someone buy this GIF as an NFT?

Or maybe you're saying this is a selfie of you, OP? You're the killer whale. The apex predator.

I had a private conversation with Ratio. Although he's been cryptic, he gave me good reason as to why, and also was VERY pro GME, saying to "hold until YOUR PRICE is met." I don't agree with all the bs posts popping up in superstonk bashing him, those posts are doing much more harm than good. There is far too much on the line for the short hedge funds for them to go down without a fight, and I believe we are smack in the middle of some serious warfare.

Why would I sell on the way up? I absolutely believe there's every chance of him being legit. But that's a little counterintuitive. I with him will r enough :)

100% - I wish I had caught any of his original posts back when they were posted because I would have loved to talk to him. I think the overreaction on superstonk is incorrect and misguided, the people in charge don't like not being Orca disappearing out of existence. As in a financial institution (whale) liquidating and getting wiped out of Wall St (Kenny) ??
