Aye man I've noticed the same three accounts flaming you through out your last post. I thought rensole taught us to be apely and to have civil discourse if we disagreed with something. Real apes don't put down other apes spreading a message of buy and hold. What the fuck. It's literally dumb. Even pink wanted to let us have our Tin foil fun. Until the shill came out and spread fud about ratio. Of course he has to be cryptic. No one gets mad at Ryan Cohen when he tweets cryptic tweets. What about dfv and his Easter eggs? Why is it baddd. I'm bored and since I don't write dd this is something that made me feel like we were contributing and getting to the bottom of stuff. At worst it was still a good spark for conversation. The whole Texas side of things was never talked about until op came.

clearly labeled a shitpost. Who sent the order to ban him and call it fud. I'm a prominent shit poster so I love how creative we apes can get when fucking around its good fun and hella interesting when sprinkled with relevance. I just want to know I'm free to shit post without being called a shill spreading fud. If I want to draw dicks on charts let me at it. Down vote me call me lame but don't ban me .

Completely agree. There's so much shitposting, memes, fluff, speculation, so why all of a sudden is RAB "too much conspiracy" for this sub? Today I asked in the discussion thread about RAB getting banned and I was downvoted and told to fuck off Yupp he's either a shill or an ape with a weird anti conspiracy fetish. Read his latest post. He's implying that he's a cyber security expert, and goes on and on about how ratio's posts are dangerous, specifically because they don't have any facts to back up claims. He said people came to sketchy conclusions about ken ordering hits. Fucking hypocritical considering his own post didn't have a single fact backed up by evidence, and when asked in the comments for said evidence, he couldn't find it. Also admitted that he's interested in cyber security and considers it his hobby, not an expert.

I've scrolled through a thousand shill posts.

Periodically read rensole's copy pasted "morning news".

Something interesting comes up, from someone interesting, presenting in an interesting method, and mods get weird. fucking reddit!

He won't be whistle-blower. Trust me on that one.
