As a new mod here, and defender of these fine apes from shills and the like, I'm going to say first that this doesn't break any rules, so I don't see any immediate reason to remove it. Although its relevance to this sub is a stretch, I see the word Gamestop.... and it is flaired shitpost. So we'll see what happens.

If y'all can behave then chat it up. But keep it here. If I start seeing a shit ton of spam posts of this on the main feed, then the mod team will reconsider everything I just said. So let's behave and keep your fucking tinfoil on straight. We have actual important company coming this week and mods are trying to clean the house!! ❤ BE EXCELLENT OR I'LL THINK YOU'RE A SHILL.

Twenty-Five Rules of Disinformation

2. Become incredulous and indignant. Avoid discussing key issues and instead focus on side issues which can be used show the topic as being critical of some otherwise sacrosanct group or theme. This is also known as the 'How dare you!' gambit.

9. Play Dumb. No matter what evidence or logical argument is offered, avoid discussing issues except with denials they have any credibility, make any sense, provide any proof.

The bill failed, but Ken P. was also in Trump's circle and possibly within Kenny G.'s circle. So this bill could have potentially given Ken P. more powers to dismiss any miss-doings of institutions moving to Austin (Citadel & others)?

Did Ken P. also receive donations from these same institutions during his first case so he could be re-elected?

The other take always that I got was that Ken got whistle blown by several of his aides. He was also involved with Nate Paul, who was involved in real estate in Austin, but there's allegations between the two right:

This is my basic overview of the situation base on all the posts so far.

The answer always is buy and hold at the end.

Ken tried to be a bank, Ken failed, he tried to be hard to be included in the 1% he got rejected (you need to be born in the 1% to be accepted).

Ken then helped the government with the stimulus (they didn't have liquidity).

Then he got tons of cash from the machine going brrrr, he promised to return 2 trillion (in exchange to Be accepted by The elite 1%) he used Algos and fast trading from Austin Texas Uni and servers (massive Ponzi scheme) to short every company and get the money to be accepted. (It's all about getting money from retail, buying bonds with it, then repo them, gov+banks gives cash and they use that cash to short).

Ken tried shorting the 1%.

The same government didn't get elected so no more machine go brrr, (ken was betting big on that).

Ken run out of money and GME didn't bankrupt so no 2 trillion. Now Ken is been squeezed by the 1% and us retail are just tagging along enjoying the show.

Ken tried the biggest Ponzi scheme and would of worked if trump have more stimys and machine go brrr so more money into shorting. But nup!

I'm in hot or cold?

If not then its cool, we still gonna wait, hold, and buy more if possible.

NovWhiskey · 1m

Sorry man, I hate to be a pedant, but what, specifically, are you referring to in his post.

I-Got-Options-Now · 1m

Off the top of my head, the pattern of FTDs, the fact that not only GME is shorted but absolutely everything else, how it's being done, the motive to move the stock exchange from NY to Texas, the dirty players behind the actions (banks, other funds) the complicity from the SEC and DTCC (there's no way they just didn't know) and how it's being done.

Like I said if you are familiar with things in depth up until now, reading through that will make a lot of sense. I warn you though it took me literally 6-7 hours to have my fill but it makes things make complete sense.

I understand being skeptical because I was but he knew before we did, that's been confirmed for me. I wish I could run through and cherry pick the things but I'm about to sleep for the night.

Why do people believe psychics? Because they speak vaguely, let you fill in the gaps, and appear to be all knowing. They can be entertaining, but that's all.... My concern is this has some of the same elements.

Take the countdown in last set of posts by OP. Nobody has definitively figured out what, if anything, that meant. I've seen anything from whistleblowers, to madoffs death being thrown about among other things. The problem is that OP could now in retrospect claim any event that happened on the countdown as their prediction.

I'd love if there was some inside knowledge being dangled in front of us, and that's kind of the point... it plays to our desire for mystery and answers.

I won't claim anything that isn't already there. If it's in my posts(present or past) I stand by it. I don't need to nor will I ever attempt to go back and say "ah-ha".

Those who can decipher or decode as many say..connect. Those who don't..reject.

Don't like my swim along. Think I'm crazy...that's a compliment.

The thing that does make much sense to me is how hard is to find the people doing this. I don't know the level or complexity of the transactions.

We know the front names shorting and the ones going long in terms of institutions. The sums of money are so big that narrow down everything pretty much.

Only bezos, musk or gates have the power as individual for this manipulation.

Only the top 5 HF will have the power and money to do something like that.

Only the top 10 banks will have the money or power to do something like that.

Everything is going through the DTCC and the DTC has all the transactions as well as the backups from citadel in Austin, NY and Utah.

Only the government and reserve has the power to do that. And I found out today that the federal reserve is not even the government but controlled by the government.

The money is coming from the printer to the banks to the DTCC to the HFs to the shorting and GME and going back to it.

It's not really hard to follow the money tray really.

The SEC knows everything or just playing dumb not to look at the DTC transactions. If official that there are a lot of naked shorts.

The machine stop printing after the new president got elected and Kenny is running out of money. It's matter of time.

Everything is narrowed to a bunch of institutions and actors that can have - '' '' '' '' Chat that amount of money.

I remember reading what Madoff said about the SEC:

He stated that he did not provide or make false records for the SEC. He added that they "never asked for DTC records" or other records that needed to be prepared. He stated that Ostrow and Lamore "never really got into books and records as related to stock records or DTC records." Madoff stated that "they never even looked at my stock records" or did a "box count." He said he was "astonished" that they didn't ask for DTC records, and stated that only a regulator could get those records from DTC, and the SEC would "have to go to DTC."

Edit to add this bit I forgot at the end. Important bit:

He added that DTC does not have separate accounts for each customer, but rather, provides a global report, but stated that if they went to DTC, they would've seen his market-making position, and that it "would've been easy for them to see" the Ponzi scheme.

<https://www.sec.gov/news/studies/2009/oig-509/exhibit-0104.pdf>

I always figured that was his way of saying "oh yeah, they totally knew exactly what was happening." I don't know if I'm reading him wrong but that would kinda lead to "oh yeah, they were in on it." I've long suspected Madoff was a sacrificie Chat

Buckle Up

I'll refrain from any offense and Q-sTyLE CoNsPiRACY defamations here, as I would not be surprised that when this crazy saga comes to an end, the truth may have been hidden somewhere between the lines of u/RatioAtBlessons

I do believe though, that how the style of these revelations is shaking up this sub, it would be best for the sanity of Superstonk and for your own conversations' effectiveness, if you just made your own sub where everybody who like this kind of play can explore the 🐰 and solve the 🐱's riddles.

At this point I find it nothing more than entertaining (we're living through a movie after all) but given the power of words by a certain Q and the absolutely frightening societal earthquakes that they have brought upon the US, I can absolutely understand that this kind of lingo is a red-flag for most people on this sub.

And I do encourage OP to file a whistleblower report with the FBI, if he/she has clear knowledge or evidence of the criminal activities that market players may be involved in.

When somebody is held hostage (like the stock we love or rather the entire stock market) and you are a witness, you do not lay out breadcrumbs that will feed the birds or rot in the rain for weeks. You call the cops and tell them the address, not riddles. If you can not talk to the cops, you go to an influential and reputable person that you trust (hint: not a bunch of crazy apes on the internet) or just publish the evidence by yourself somewhere it will be seen.

So start my own sub 😞..that's what it's come to...yet another split on top of another split. Yeah..that'll show 'em. Mods and shills..I'll show them who the boss is. Then I'll get my point(s) across..my way..no limits.

Surely that wouldn't hurt anymore than all of the previous splits of subs. I should just start a RAB_Meltdown. •sike•

OP reminds me of this wannabe rapper named Jayy Joe I went to college with. Couldn't rub 2 brain cells together to form a single sentence and his raps were nonsensical, but he knew how to roll tight cross blunts. So he had that going for him I guess..

It's funny how you come out of retirement at 11pm on the weekend after everyone calls your bullshit.

Take your virtual escape room elsewhere, plug. People aren't buying it.
