Video Ken G. playing uno interview, pause at 3:55:

The stock Market

1. What do you propose to do?

I propose to research the stock. I plan to explain how it works and how to read the stock market in the newspapers. I should probably have another thing "can't decipher word" such as its history for sure. I will also keep track of the stock flow.

2. How do you plan to carry out your proposal?

I plan to ask a broker on the stock market, use encyclopedias and other books to research it.

3. What material will you need?

I will need encyclopedia, newspapers, books and other sources I can find

4. What do you hope to gain from this activity? I hope to gain a better understanding of the stock market

5. When will you be ready to present your project? I will be ready May "date blurred" 1980.

He then canceled the original date and wrote "changed + 28" $1980+28 = 2008$ was this when he was allowed to present his project by crashing the market??!!

It does to me a lot like what we have come to see during these months, all the different tricks he has for the stock market...

Just quit the Q Anon crap bread crumbs/puzzles. Other than that it doesn't mean you don't have some valid points. Everyone already thinks the GME tinfoil stuff is getting out of hand and hurting forward momentum. Perception, unfortunately and rightly or wrongly, matters. Again you make valid points for sure. The problem is your presentation has made many question your motivations. That's all. Alway buy what you can and HODL.

Are you really rasing doubts about DFV now? The only fucking upright individual in this story?... I was a bit curious about your game, but with this comment it looks like you are showing your true colors... I'm not even going to start with what he's done (more than anyone), but what have you done? You say you're willing to speak and the only thing you do is throwing emojis... Stop playing games and speak clear. You've really got key info? Give it to the people straight away then once and for all, that's the only way you could still get some credit..

Circling back to the data center thing:

Citadel Data Center Solutions does business online as CitadelServer281. Their email is citadelserver281@gmail.com. Their username pretty much everywhere is that too. They're here on Reddit as u/citadelserver281.

Their phone number is 512-548-9000

Some obscure search techniques unearthed that Paul Calderon, formerly of ABN Amro has something to do with the place.

Any public sources that aren't deleted are a year old or older.

1000% a shill tactic. Only hedgies and kenny have to gain from discussion and research being done. It's never been a problem. We wouldn't be here without any of that. You know they're fucked if even shills are saying to focus on buy/hold when the dd's proved that. What's wrong with research? It doesn't change the thesis but it does put ken and hedgefucks under a massive microscope.

It is only a single component of the wider market bubbles... but that bubble is almost exclusively from the FED pumping trillions of dollars into the markets.

They're short GME. What relevance does it have? Did texas help with the price? Did it get apes to buy and hodl? Did it teach us about FTDs? Did it teach us about married puts? Deep ITM calls?

You get my point yet? Everything we've learned about the markets and how they operate has strengthened our resolve a THOUSAND fold over some fabricated mystery based on tenuous links and correlations.

Did you know, chimpanzees can tell that correlation doesn't equal causation.

Why so much resistance. His post had 1k upvotes and was 2 weeks old when you guys decided to use it to spin a conspiracy narrative, I love the dd about the financial markets it's what keeps me going. But if I can entertain myself figuring out and ispy ape edition game. What's it to you. I can't write dd so I contribute to this just to see if there's any part of the picture we're missing. Texas is relevant because quantlabs is where citadel is getting the algos that keep shorting the market and hiding the short interest. You think they're doing that shit by hand manually shorting and resetting ftd's? They're a quant labs in China and I believe the guy that disappeared had to do with writing this algo for Kenny. Rab might be a student at uni of Texas that gained access to citadel securities computer science program logs. It's what he has alluded to in the past. Regardless the only divide here is you.

No one was losing moral about missed dates...I don't know where you've been, but "NO DATES" has been the most understood thing about this. Literally buy and hodl is the easiest thing to do in the world yet all of a sudden for some reason people need to be given cryptic messages like they're apart of some bigfoot conspiracy theory scavenger hunt. Again I've yet to receive an answer as to why do people need to uncover his little mystery game right now. It can't wait until after the MOASS? When hundreds of thousands of people will have the money and resources to commit to finding out every little nook and cranny of his cryptic maze. When people will have the influence to actually make a use for the info he may or may not have, but no it needs to be solved right now. That to me seems like anterior motives. YOU NEED TO DO THIS NOW screams sus is all I'm saying.

Still unable to give a reasonable reply to why it needs to be solved now and can't be put off until later. The lack of reason for the urgency is all the more reason people should stay away from Qanon type stuff. Next you're gonna try and say gme hodlers should prove the world's flat after they get their squeeze money. You sure do seem to have an issue pertaining to people controlling you? I'm simply wanting to know why this HAS to be done now and not later? To me seems like a shill strategy to misdirect the more conspiracy theory leaning apes off into neverland and see how far they can be manipulated. Whereas if everyone went "This is some interesting shit. After I'm a multi millionaire I'm gonna look into it further" there'd be no issue. People stay focused on gme. The puzzles still get solved.

Because we aren't troops. This isn't a war. We aren't a cult. We aren't a hivemind.

We're fathers, sons, mothers, daughters, workers, disabled people, marginalised and suffering and sore and hurt people.

People who saw a slim chance at something more. We saw what they were doing. We read DD that showed us facts, with evidence and reasoned deduction. We learned truth from lies. We saw that the game hasn't finished yet.

There is no cult for gme - it is a hyper rational investment based on facts of the market.

We don't need someone creating a conspiracy. It doesn't help us. We don't need it to hold. We don't need him asking for donations. We don't need him maki

We are here of our own free will, we chose to invest in GME because we did our DD, are able to filter out the white noise and came to the conclusion that GME was a good investment for our family's. After all the bombardment from the media, the jokes behind our backs from family and friends we still hold. Why would this change anything?

Yet you continue to fall back on the theory we're dumb, and can't think rationally, we need to have a hive mind and any outside influence will take us off course. You want to control the narrative.

Signs of manipulation: passive aggressive behavior, implicit threats, dishonesty, isolation, gaslighting, and verbal abuse. You are quite literally everything your claiming RAB to be.

We're free to think and do as we see fit, we don't need anyone saying otherwise."It's exhausting, tiptoeing around someone who barges into your life with good intentions"

At what point does desiring critical thinking make someone a shill? You can call me that a thousand times. It doesn't change the shares I own - which RAB (until recently) never declared any position - and it doesn't change that I'm not wrong about reason.

I would like for you to explicitly point out where I've asked for a single donation. Just one?

Oh the Venmo? Yeah..so about that for $Freemillion, Freehundred and Free you or anyone can reach out to me via my 'mo. Directly without donations.

Oops..oooohhh..you mean the $2.5m that I'm raising to purchase a MOD seat on subs. Yeah. Because you buy a MOD spot and a whole sub if you want... 😊

...or maybe I just have a cents of humor. But please do go on with this narrative. I mean...I'll even toss in a few $.10s if it'll help yourself feel better.

Exactly..at what point does desiring critical thinking make someone a shill?

I have declared positions because the move awhile ago was to not disclose positions.

You DFV? Ohhh..okay..where has he been?

Has he been: A) Holding quietly B) Reducing quietly C) Working on his upcoming NFT launch?

You tell me what you know and I'll show you where you're wrong.

You know RC? What's he been up to?

You know them both huh? Looks around.. Seems your the only one. 🤯 or it appears.

Hey but real quick though...I don't recall anything from DFV/The Roaring Kitty..anything at all other than pics and gifs that have SAID anything at all. Nothing. Never a single word from him anything that shills are going to do, have been doing, trying to do, or will be doing. Nothing about Citadel at all. Almost as though he just likes to keep people guessing.

But your right..my posts about data centers, affiliations throughout the market/media/politics are 'spiracy.

Fucked up shit is unlike others I'll put it all on the line fighting for apes like you, digging you dumpsters for apes like you, getting information into the right hands at the right times for apes like you.

For FREE-FREE-FREE. No subscription or allegiance needed. No karma sought.

Interpret that. Twist this. I'm tired of being banned for stupid shit. If I wanted to saturate my messages across Reddit...I would have been a Mod somewhere by now..under this u/ or another.

So is it a warehouse in Ukraine? NK? or Sin0? Or are you just really bored and angry that your game has been largely shut down?

This is a bizarre post, you deflect the donation grabbing as a joke. Fair enough... But forgive me for being cautious? Like come on dude. You can't just say "it's a prank bro" in 2021 and then act like I'm the idiot. Lol.

Also, to then decry the very people we have most reason to trust...

I am not 100% sure, I am only relaying what I understood to be the reason for the banning or sentiment against the user.

From what I saw and gleaned from some of the posts/comments I read of that user it seemed like a lot of speculation based on cherry picked information.

Honestly I woke up to find the backlash over 14d old posts and didn't understand nor did I care too much. At this point I have all the information I need to just hold and wait so I haven't been watching the subs as much.

"Do you prefer reasoned arguments or one's without evidence?"

You didn't answer. You said "i prefer people to make their own mind up". That wasn't an option in my question. So, I interpreted it as you agreeing with me.

Chat

Search

Again, that wasn't in my comment. So I explained it to you again for a 3rd time.

And finally, you say that I'm gaslighting you.

This isn't what's happening here. In fact, if you or anyone reading this understands what gaslighting means... I think they (and hopefully you) realise that you're doing it to me, by avoiding my questions, making irrelevant arguments and then telling me that I'm gaslighting you.

You believe you're wasting my time.

You're not.

I've made my post. Lots of people already saw it. Likely the whole subreddit. And my replies aren't fallible, so if anyone dives down here... they will see the truth for what it is.

You can't win.

My point remains the same:

RAB has proved nothing. The responsibility is THEIRS to prove it.

Do you understand the scientific method? You propose a hypothesis (or null hypothesis) and collect evidence to prove (or disprove) that.

RAB has failed to set out a coherent hypothesis and has posted no evidence.

It completely fails every test for valid and quality information. I prove them wrong by asking for evidence for OVER A MONTH... and I receive no evidence.

I'm not against discussion of it, either. If you're going to make big claims though... you better have more than a diagram of who went to what university.

Correlation does not equal causation. It never has. It never will. 100% of people who drink water, eat and breathe... die.

Does that mean those things cause death?

No.

This is a bad take.

You look 4 years ago from the attempted insurrection against the capital and someone like you would say: "is Q calling for a revolution???"

This person is acting as a rogue and not transparently. The format is deceptive and falsely rewards bssleless speculation, instead of proven facts.

Also, because it's misdirecting away from the stock and market conversation, it is diluting the actually relevant and valuable information we need to be better investors.

It isn't my job to respond to every single person who doesn't understand what group think, misinformation, or psy ops are.

I made my post. You should care to read it and actually discuss the points I raise.

But if you actually cared, you'd have already paid attention to the dozen posts trying to educate you and make you a better person, rather than someone trying to fracture us further.

I do agree with you, if you don't like the post don't read it period. People want to be given the easy way and not have to work for a conclusion and have the answers already given, that's the lazy way.

I replied to a post I think u/sydneyfriendlyclub put up that in my opinion the DD on SS is about the stock and how/why it's going to change a lot of peoples lives. I believe what you are trying to bring out is all the corruption that has been going on and that GME is the catalyst for it to hopefully come to light. I am holding and will continue to do so. Wait...there is no request for anyone to read any post.

Isn't a post just like a shirt on the rack? Or any book on a shelf? Drink in a cooler?

Individual choice. Correct?

Not an ad. An individual post. Nothing seeking anything from anything. A sharing of thought. Nothing more.

That's harmful? In what manner? Educate me. I'm serious. How does a post by any trigger another? If I don't like snakes and you post a picture of a chart and I see that you have a snake in the background, should I be offended? Should I discount any DD or facts you point out in your chart simply because you have a snake and I hate snakes?

I haven't advocated for to do anything other than to step back and think. I may have created the sharing style, but the information is sound. The facts check out. The end result, the conclusion I have presented constantly is to Buy & Hold. I will continue to do so..and should ever I have firm and accurate proof that Buying and Holding were no longer the way..I'd share that..accepted or rejected. Open to consideration or counter discussion.

I just find it small minded that everywhere you turn nowadays the first thing that our society wants to do is silence others. Shut them down. Mock and ridicule. Destroy the image and the character of another, just because it's the crowd thing to do.

My post and my way are my way of fighting back, pushing back. My facts remain.

Too edgy..too cryptic..too deep. But you feel something. A spark goes off in that head of yours one way or another. You think as a result. Doesn't matter if you agree with me or disagree. You think. You do your own research. You do your own homework. You confirm your own bias.

I'm not Elon..I don't have billions to create mass waves and MOASS..that's the difference between he and I. The difference between I and most others

I really do believe that something I research or do, or uncover, or share really does make a difference. I know it does.

If I knew or felt that I couldn't have an impact I would never have put myself out into the public eye again as I have. I would have kept my head down. Instead of being certain of my facts/findings and the facts/findings of others I wouldn't have put the rest of my life on hold. Gave up my career. Lost friends and lost family just for 5mins of Katie Porter's time. I wouldn't be doing any of what I do away from Reddit if every single person who holds a share didn't matter.

When the fuck has Keith Gill EVER said that? Would he give up all of his GME Ms if it really means no 🙏 left behind? Not the fortune that he has built as a result of his GME 💎. Just his GME profits. Every single $0.01? I would, I have, I do...DAILY.

To date personal loses: -Career Terminated -Two cars repossessed -Two cars sold at loss -Apartment Eviction

Avoided by friends, shunned by family because I won't sell. My position or information.

I could walk away green in my GME positions. I won't. But I tell you this..if it really came down to a choice between me having $15.5 or having it to equally distributed to every 🙏 in this sub...I'd happily give it all way. I've done so multiple times before in my life and I'll do it over and over again.

That who I am.

My personal net worth before GME was in the tens of millions. My current liquid worth..$6k. I put my money where my heart is because so many of you have put your hopes, your dreams, and your life savings into this. If you all lose it all, I will be personally devastated. If I lose it all, I'll just be more motivated.

Are you reading this and hoping that you really will be able to live the life that you've always imagined? I'm here to tell you that you started actually living it the day that Buy transaction with your name on it cleared. Don't believe me? Fuck around 💎 and find out.

RaB, I believe you're honest and genuine. You seem to know some info that may be helpful to an investigation, or just to get a better picture of the depth of this thing.

We don't need any more crazy cryptic shit though. We're already having to deal with RC and DFV's cryptic-ass tweets, which don't seem to amount to anything. I get them though, they're being eyed by the SEC and can't publicly say anything. What about you, though? Why not just compile a thorough DD and submit it anonymously, or just tell us straight up what you know? Or just compile a report

Why would someone with tens of millions be renting an apartment rather than owning the asset? I enjoy reading your posts and think they are harmless and entertaining, but saying that you were evicted from your apartment and then that you had millions of dollars, doesn't make sense to me.

He was probably renting a fucking expensive apartment. A guy with tens of millions with the knowledge he has was probably working on Wall Street. Have you seen what real estate rents for there? Also, he said his "liquid" net worth. That means cash. He could believe in this so much that every other dollar he has is wrapped up in GME. 5 minutes of Katie Porter's time... wonder how that turned out. She seems more like a virtue signaler than an activist. Was it a private meeting? Only thing you would go talk to Katie Porter about is something that everyone else is in on and you can only trust an aggressive freshman. Quant Labs is very interesting. I'm getting the sense that Shitadel was trading a whole lot of nothing. Nothing at all. Everything was synthetic. There have also been some comments about real estate. Wondering if there's another layer to this where they're hiding money in real estate assets. I dunno. Whatevs. HODL.

I live in NYC, a block away from Wall Street, so yes, I do know what restate goes for here. Your explanation still doesn't justify why someone with that much would rent instead of buy.

NoMoreCheeters · 1m

So, your assumption is that anyone with enough money to buy a house would do so? Very much not the case. People with lots of money rent or lease for a variety of reasons. I have enough money to buy a house. In fact, I own a portfolio of rental properties. And still, I choose to rent. What are my reasons? The market I live in is overbought and I don't think that the prices are justified. I'd rather invest what would be a massive down payment elsewhere. I like having the ability to relocate without needing to sell. It's cheaper. I can save the difference between monthly rent and what a mortgage would cost. I don't like being locked into a mortgage payment above a certain amount. Should I go on?

(s)he is encouraging you to buy and hold, like everyone else, and presenting info that will hopefully get us to the same end result...how does anyone else know what the "real" behind the scenes workings are? everyone speculates and tries to dig up information, and i dont think it would harm anyone to atleast look into it...if it turns up nothing, we can close those curtains and start again elsewhere but i think it is important to approach at all angles to verify or discredit the info/data for each point..you either choose to engage his words in your thoughts or you dont, and thats different than agreeing with his words

So you are paperhanding? I mean if you lost a lot I am sorry man. I don't know your situation though. Go back to your family man, that's most important. Not these strangers online dog. Call me a shill, I'm ACTUALLY looking out for my apes by saying that. If we get the plain English like you say, then I will most definitely check it out.

Much love man, it feels like you've been through some crazy shit. Write a book, not a cyrtogram, I'll buy it.

Mods likely didn't want cryptic messages filling up the sub

There's 2 dozen plus posts on SS this very minute trying to decipher a cryptic Ryan Cohen tweet so that explanation doesn't really fly. Not to mention the 100s of posts made to decipher DFV tweets over the last few months.

This right here is the post that convinced me you're a bullshitter. There wouldn't be a need to be cryptic yet spill out your personal woes and apparent fall from multi-millionaire to a lowly ape like us. If you really had such top level information it wouldn't take the top brass long to find out who completely shat the bed in the past few months and left the company in disgrace.

Look originally, I was defending you on SuperStonk, because I think ideas should be discussed, but it wasn't just one post, it was one after the other from hundreds of people. I'm not saying you should have been banned, but I personally have no idea what to believe right now, except holding these shares is fucking with the people who killed Epstein (This is my own original thought, you don't have to agree). Your cryptic shit is cool, but tell me about Katie Porter.

I respect you as you remind me of V. But we are just retarded apes. What could REALLY help are facts. Facts that make people angry, facts that make people rightfully react. If you have those facts and are comfortable sharing them with us in an easy and clear way (remember, we are retarded) please do it. Otherwise I will still follow your trail of breadcrumbs with a delighted attitude.

This is the one thing I did not agree with. You can see my comment history, I made this clear in a comment section of a "meme" saying to actively ignore you. Whether I believe what you say or think you are over exaggerative is up for debate but in no way should you have been targeted. If you want to keep being cryptic go for it. I got shot down by even Rensole a LONG TIME AGO when I posted and had a post of mine deleted in GME (which I later removed myself) when I mentioned that the "DTCC/DTC are not your friends" (was told "it doesn't work like that buddy" [although he was really nice about it, shout out to him always being Excellent]) and then made a simple deduction that DTC may play ball with the hedges since they weren't down their throats after having full transparency of all their activity with the first rule amendment. Got called a shill by multiple what I assume to be, bots, and now we see that people have opened their eyes a little bit. I've laid a little lower since then so if that's what you do as well, I believe we will still get to the same result with my input/your input or not, and observing some of your posts you have had some cryptic things that lined up with real findings. I can't tell whether your mad or a genius, but I don't worry about it. I see you as competition and we'll see who gets the highest scoring share at the end. Don't lose spirit though, when the subversive rise to the top people will try to re-bury them,

DFV was never cryptic he clearly stated his positions early on, years ago, and said that he believed in the company based on fundamentals and explained very specifically that it wasn't about a squeeze or anything other than the fundamentals of the company turning around in the future. He was hopeful for $20 when it was $2.

Don't compare yourself to him, you're in here doing crazy Q posts with schizo vibes and synchronicity and all sorts of holistic bullshit, if you really wanted to help people you would be direct and provide real data instead of sending people on goose chases trying to get attention like some Q Shaman.

THE STOCK MARKET

1. What do you propose to do?

I propose to research the stock. I plan to explain how it works and how to read the stock market in the newspapers. I should probably have another thing "can't decipher word" such as its history for sure. I will also keep track of the stock flow.

2. How do you plan to carry out your proposal?

I plan to ask a broker on the stock market, use encyclopedias and other books to research it.

3. What material will you need?

I will need encyclopedia, newspapers, books and other sources I can find

4. What do you hope to gain from this activity? I hope to gain a better understanding of the stock market

5. When will you be ready to present your project? I will be ready May "date blurred" 1980.

He then canceled the original date and wrote "changed + 28" 1980+28 = 2008 was this when he was allowed to present his project by crashing the market??!!

It does sound a lot like what he's been doing the whole time and has been his plan since he was a kid... I mean if it wasn't that important why would you have it framed in your HQ?? and change the original date when his plan was made possible??

Feel free to come with input, you might also be able to decipher the last word.

Sorry bro, if you cannot handle them do not mind them, if you are too blind to see the truth, then at least think more critically. I didn't even know about Ratio a few days ago, then out of sudden when he is 13 days silent these posts come out one after another, check the posters seem legitimate, but why every comment defending them goes down voted into oblivion, oh let's check the commentators most of them are new accounts or older but copy-pasting comments that he is distracting everyone, dividing compering to Q. Just, just for fuck sake once in your life go now to Ratios posts and check his lengthy reply to WHY. 75% of the fucking DDs are conspiracy theories and speculation, which could be Shills as well. People try to decrypt the shit out of Cohens and DFV tweets, no one has problems with that. It is just funny how a dude can make these posts and from nowhere people start to give a fuck. Who the hell cares, leave it to the ones who can solve it and sees through it, BUY AND HOLD, dude's floor is 15 mil, tell me one harmful thing he has done. Prove one false info. I don't or won't apologize for that. My style, my way. It ends with firmly gripped around the stock I love and apes that I have come to adore.

I've presented facts and presented facts to back those facts. Ever so clever with my own zest. But as has been seen..there are those who do understand how to decode. There are those who know how to decipher and they know what to do with whatever. I don't lead, I show. Favorite songs have a theme. Favorite shows have favorite characters.

Who says that DD and holding has to be boring? Or traditional?

Truth, that will make the strength of my investment better.

The narrative is clear. Make GME look divided, chaotic and cultist in nature. It will dissuade people from piling into the investment. It will keep the price as low as necessary to prevent the squeeze.

BULLSHIT!

Oh wow, you got me.

Pardon, I didn't realise the moniker of misinformation dissolved into nothing, because their flair is different.

It changes nothing. RAB has posted no evidence of any of the claims made. There is a dangerous slope of misinformation surrounding this activity behind these posts, posing as relevant and important.

I'm here to talk about GME. Not to be conscripted into a cult bent on screaming about the markets. You want to challenge the market? Buy and hodl gme.

Yeah, you have literally created a fringe conspiracy out of thin air, and mods didn't want the subreddit's credibility to go to shit.

Buy. Hold. Repeat. 💎,DB

Yep...much conspiracy. You should avoid me and my thoughts. Stick to SS. Nothing but the gospel there.

I wish you all the best and great success.

Honestly you're missing out. How anyone can discredit any info at this time is (no offense) simply lazy. I've gone down some RAB holes that provide if only a generalized wrinkle, it's still a fucking wrinkle. Reminder....there is life after MOASS. Good luck to all! 🤷‍♂️🚀🌙

Lol. No. Have fun on your wild emoji and capitalized letters goose chase, though.
